Important info

Hello parents,
It was great to see you all at Poetry Cafe!

Next week we have two days of homeschool: Thursday and Friday. These are homeschool days so that us teachers can conference with scholars and parents if needed. (you would have received an email from me if I wanted to conference with you) But if you didn't get an email and would still like to conference I am here do to so. Please email me and we can set up a time!

Important dates:
No school March 7

Week of Feb. 25-march 1

Highlights from our week:

-Our focus for writing this week was poems. We made acrostic poems and 4 line rhyming poems. The scholars loved being creative with their writing this week!

-We continued working on collecting data, creating categories for our data and then charting the data. We learned about the different types of graphs: bar graph, pictographs, line plot, pie graph. Line plots were a big focus.

-new reading book for their book club. A lot of our scholars have started diving deeper with non-fiction articles during their book club time with me. We are looking for some of our gate icons such as: impact, proof, language of the discipline and multiple perspectives.

-We focused on Verbs during word work

-We working on our unit in Social Studies on Economics. Learning about goods, services, supply and demand.

Friday Homeschool Days

These are opportunities for you as parents to be the teacher! It is helpful to view Friday as a school day not as a heavy homework day. I recommend breaking it up!

Students will bring home a yellow folder each Thursday with their home school work and their weekly reading log. This will be due the following Wednesday!

Greetings scholars and parents!
